“ 1 Corinthians (NKJV) 13

1 Though I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, but have not love, I have become sounding brass or a clanging cymbal.

2 And though I have the gift of prophecy, and understand all mysteries and all knowledge, and though I have all faith, so that I could remove mountains, but have not love, I am nothing.

3 And though I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and though I give my body [a]to be burned, but have not love, it profits me nothing.

4 Love suffers long and is kind; love does not envy; love does not parade itself, is not [b]puffed up;

5 does not behave rudely, does not seek its own, is not provoked, [c]thinks no evil;

6 does not rejoice in iniquity, but rejoices in the truth;

7 bears all things, believes all things, hopes all things, endures all things.

8 Love never fails. But whether there are prophecies, they will fail; whether there are tongues, they will cease; whether there is knowledge, it will vanish away.

9 For we know in part and we prophesy in part.

10 But when that which is [d]perfect has come, then that which is in part will be done away.

11 When I was a child, I spoke as a child, I understood as a child, I thought as a child; but when I became a man, I put away childish things.

12 For now we see in a mirror, dimly, but then face to face. Now I know in part, but then I shall know just as I also am known.

13 And now abide faith, hope, love, these three; but the greatest of these is love.

Love is the one word that describes my Aunt Arlene. She had it, lived it, shared it, showed it all the time in all kinds of ways and situations. My world is lesser with knowing I can no longer travel to northeast Arkansas to see and speak with her. My world is greater with knowing she is with Jesus Christ and surrounded with His great unimaginable Love. I hope Jesus tries her pecan pie...a favorite and prize treat I used to look forward to at family gatherings when I was younger.
