“ I remember the first time I met her. I was at my brother's house & I needed a ride home so I called Shawn which is a friend of hers & now mine as well but anyway, I explained to Shawn that I had no way home & that my brother & his wife eere fighting & they said I had to leave. They even made me go outside & wait until Shawn could help me find a ride because it was too dark & too far to walk. Shawn finally called Bonnie & told her what was going on & she said her & her husband David would come pick me up. When they got thete to get me I offerrd them gas money but they refused to take any gas money. After that we become really good friends & then a short period of being friends I started calling her & David Mom & Dad & it just kinda stuck with us all these years & that's how they became my adopted mom & dad. That's one of my best memories of Momma Bonnie. I sure do miss & love her very very very much, all the way to the moon & back, with all of my heart & soul, with all of God's will & might. I think you get the point, if you didn't get the point after all that, then you never will. I love & miss you Bonnie Sue Wheeler, may you rest in peace!!!!
