I miss my friend and mentor! I miss her laughter and her stories. I miss her singing Rose colored glasses and smile on her face as she sang. I miss our long talks about life , love, and sorrow! She never failed to make me laugh and always our talks ended on the brighter side of life. I always felt happy when I was with her. I will never forget that horrible day we lost her. Our shinning star. She still sparkles in our hearts forever!! That nothing can take from all of us who love her!
