“ *Ms. Gaither (as I knew her) was my 5th grade teacher. She found me on facebook last year, and I am so glad she did because I had the opportunity to apologize for being such a brat all those years ago. She was quick to forgive, like the apology was not necessary to her, but it sure made me feel better. I spent several evening conversing with her over facebook. That was where I learned that she was sick. Oh, how I wish it could have been different. My husband and I are in the process of trying to build a pregnancy care home to help women with unplanned pregnancies, that may be in a crisis situation. About 6 months ago I received a package from Ms. Stringfellow. It was several pictures that she wanted to hang in the House of Esther. All of them were pointing to Christ as our Savior. I asked her what message she would like to convey to the ladies that would come through the House of Esther, and she replied, "John 1." This will be a testimony to the ladies that will come through. I am so grateful for the conversations we had over the last year through facebook. To her family and friends: I pray for the LORD'S comfort and peace for all of you.
