You were a few years older than me but I remember that sharpe

“ There is a special place in my heart and mind for my Sedgwick friends who shared the life experiences of growing up in a small town of 196 people. We lived in a nostalgic time of freedom, joy, companionship, trials and triumphs. Sedgwick life allowed us to have uncommon connections, personal growth, and self-discovery which sustained us to adulthood. Those who grew up with us will know how Mike fits into the following list and be able to fill in the blanks for any hidden understanding. This is but a smattering of Mike Truxler’s shared impact on all of us there.
