“ *Mom,
I can't believe you are gone. I can't make it to you either. I tried I just got sick on the way I had to come back home. Mom I love you so much and I love you forever every time I look at the clouds the stars or the moons I'll be thinking of you. And I know you're with me in my heart I'm so sorry I couldn't make it there I tried really hard I drove 600 miles but I couldn't do the rest I had to come back home. I love you always and forever I will never forget you and I hope you never get how strong of a woman you are and you are the most loyalist strongest person I have ever met. You're my best friend when I want to pick up the phone and hear your voice you're not going to be there. That's going to kill me because you're usually the first one I call. Nobody can ever take the place. I'll always love you Mom and I'll always check in on Uncle duke for yo. Miss Kitty's really upset with you but she'll be okay we know you didn't mean that sitter on purpose LOL now you're with him and now I'm sure you give her a big hug for me and tell her I love her and Dad too tell him I'll be there soon I'm sure I love you*
